Metropolitan Moving & Storage Expands with Move to New, Consolidated Laurel, Md. Headquarters

Relocation to New 40,000 Square-foot Office and Warehouse Enables Firm to Combine Previously Separate Storage and Office/Warehouse Spaces into Single Larger Facility

Laurel, Md. – Metropolitan Moving & Storage, a leading moving and storage service in the greater Washington, D.C. region, recently moved to a brand new headquarters in Laurel, Md., efficiently combining the company’s previously separate office/warehouse and storage facilities into a larger, consolidated space with easy access to I-95, I-495 and MD Route 200 (the Intercounty Connector).

The new headquarters at 13230 Mid-Atlantic Boulevard in Laurel has approximately 40,000 square feet of warehouse/office space and includes a high-tech security system and nine bay doors, tripling the company’s previous loading and unloading capabilities. Previously, Metropolitan Moving & Storage maintained an office space in Rockville, Md. and a separate 14,000 square foot warehouse in Gaithersburg, Md.

“As we’ve grown over the past several years, the need to quickly load and unload multiple trucks and have easy access to major highways was an enhancing necessity,” said Jonathan Neal, President and CEO of Metropolitan Moving & Storage. “This new facility not only puts us in prime location for efficiency to our customers, while consolidating our internal functions of office and warehouse, but also significantly increases our agility and available storage space.”

Metropolitan Moving & Storage plans to host a grand opening at the new headquarters in the spring.

Neal and his partner, Robert Bistle, founded Metropolitan Moving & Storage in 2004, and have grown the operation into a multimillion dollar enterprise, with more than 40 employees. In 2013 and 2014, Metropolitan Moving & Storage received the Inc. 500|5000 award, a distinguished editorial award that ranks companies by their rate of growth and celebrates entrepreneurial leaders throughout the nation. Metropolitan Moving & Storage has also been featured in Washingtonian Magazine’s “Top Moving Companies.” In addition, the company has received Angie’s List’s “Super Service Award” consecutively from 2007-2014.
